COLOUR-BLEND ROOFING TILES

Offering an artistic, decorative roof treatment, in harmony with Nature's own diffused light and shade

FROM the earliest ages, tiles of Terra-Cotta have been employed by man in the building of his habitations; but very curtailed was their use until comparatively recent times, when the introduction of machinery placed Roofing Tiles of burnt clay within the means of the most modest home-builder.

In Australia, the use of Wunderlich Marseilles pattern Terra-Cotta Roofing Tiles is widespread. They are recognised as ideal in every detail that counts. They combine unmatched beauty with extreme durability, and afford everlasting protection to the home. No extremes of climate can affect them, no lapse of time dim their cheerful colouring. Within recent years, a wonderful development in the production of various coloured tiles has increased the utility and scope of our Terra-Cotta roofing. "Magic Fire" has employed its witchery to yield surprising variations of shade and tone, so that to-day those of our clients seeking relief from the well known grades of red, may indulge their taste among a profusion of beautifully blended colours.

In this pamphlet we illustrate a roof resplendent with the colour and texture which a judicious blending imparts. Our representative will be glad to show you examples of such roofs, and to furnish you with any desired information.
